UCP of Long Island held its 29th Annual Golf Classic at the Huntington Country Club

Hauppauge, NY – United Cerebral Palsy of Long Island held its 29th Annual Golf Classic at the Huntington Country Club on Monday, May 21, 2018. More than 120 friends and supporters were in attendance and thanks to their generous support, over $125,000 was raised.

“Endless thanks from the bottom of my heart for honoring Corporate Synergies and myself today”, said Victor P. Dezelic, Vice President, Senior Benefits Consultant at Corporate Synergies. “We are truly proud to be a partner with an organization that supports so many of Long Island’s children, adults and their families.”

The outing featured an elaborate breakfast with picture perfect weather for an exciting day of golf. During the day, golfers tried their luck at winning the hole-in-one prize, a Mercedes Benz courtesy of Mercedes Benz of Massapequa. Our talented UCP Artists from the Brushstrokes program were on hand captivating our golfers with their amazing artwork. The evening concluded with guests enjoying the extensive dinner program and bidding on live auction items and enticing raffle prizes.

UCP of Long Island thanks its presenting sponsor, Corporate Synergies and major sponsors The Schaefer Agency and M&T Bank.

“We are grateful for the continuous support from our sponsors and community, which plays a significant role in helping us achieve our mission,” said Stephen H. Friedman, UCP President & CEO.

UCP would also like to thank its Birdie Sponsors, The Bernard Family, Gary Duff Designs, Genatt V LLC and Professional Group Plans for their generous support. Through their extraordinary generosity, we are able to continue to provide the vital programs and services our children and adults need.
